Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in-

(1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effect under this subsection of a national application published under section 122(b) only if the international application designating the United States was published under Article 21(2)(a) of such treaty in the English language; or

(2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that a patent shall not be deemed filed in the United States for the purposes of this subsection based on the filing of an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a).

2. Claims 1, 3-7 and 9-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(e) as being anticipated by Satoh et al, U.S. Patent Application Publication No. 2002/0028701 (hereinafter Satoh).

Regarding claim 1, Satoh discloses a portable telephone (see Figure 6) terminal having a load portion, wherein power consumption varies according to a status of operation of the portable telephone terminal, said portable telephone terminal comprising:

a first power supply circuit;

a second power supply circuit;

Art Unit: 2645

a determining circuit for determining said status of operation of the portable telephone terminal; and a control circuit for effecting control according to said determined status of operation to switch between a first power supply mode wherein said first power supply circuit supplies power to said load portion and a second power supply mode where said second power supply circuit supplies power to said load portion (see Figure 7).

Regarding claim 3, see Figure 7.

Regarding claim 4, see paragraphs 0061-0076.

Regarding claim 5, see Figure 7.

Regarding claim 6, see Figure 6.

Regarding claim 7, Satoh discloses a power supply method for a portable telephone terminal (see Figure 6), said portable telephone terminal having a first power supply circuit, a second power supply circuit, and a load portion wherein power consumption varies according to the status of operation of the portable telephone terminal, said power supply method comprising the steps of:

determining said status of operation; and switching, according to said determined status of operation, between a first power supply mode wherein said first power supply circuit supplies power to said load portion and a second power supply mode wherein said second power supply circuit supplies power to said load portion (see Figure 7).

Art Unit: 2645

Regarding claim 9, see Figure 7.

Regarding claim 10, see paragraphs 0061-0076.

Regarding claim 11, see Figure 7.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 2 and 8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
